Dear Sir

The President of the Republic of Portugal, General António Ramalho Eanes, asked me to thank you for your determined commitment to the principle of self-determination of peoples, as shown in your attitude regarding East-Timor.

As you probably know, Portugal has taken in the last months decisive steps in order to pave the way for a peaceful settlement of the question of East-Timor, both in terms of the political autonomy of the East-Timorese people and of the safeguard of basic human rights of freedom and dignity, food, shelter, health and education.

A new draft-resolution, co-sponsored by all the Portuguese-speaking countries and by other countries fully supportive of the re-establishment of human rights in East-Timor will be discussed during the coming days in the IV Committee of the United Nations General Assembly.

The international community, through the vote of the National governmental delegations and through the interventions of the NGO's with consultative status in the UN, will have to decide the value they actually give to the basic principles of the Charter.

President Eanes considers that, given the impact of your organisation, your public stand (and whatever means of clarifying the issue are available to you) will certainly be a major asset in helping the authorities of your country to re-appraise the East-Timor question and to formulate a policy of intervention in the UN debates and of the vote to be cast conducive to the defense of the human rights of the individuals and the people of East-Timor.

Thanking you again for all your efforts in the past and in the future,

Yours sincerely,

THE HEAD OF THE CIVILIAN STAFF.
